GERMANY GIVES IN TO THE U. S.

Agreement Reached on the Exact Word- ing of the Lusitania

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Jan. 7.—The German foreign office has acceded to the demand of the United States over the exact wording of the agreement between the two countries which will clear up the Lusitania case. Advice to that effect reached the German embassy this afternoon. Count Bernstorff immediately made arrangements for a conference with Secretary of State Lansing. An audience was arranged for 2.45 this afternoon. The greatest optimism was manifested at the German embassy, officials there declaring that a complete settlement of the Lusitania case is now assured.

AUSTRIA HAS NO NEWS OF PERSIA

Asks for Information From This Country.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Jan. 7.—The state department received a cable from Ambassador Penfield at Vienna today, stating that he had been informed by the Austrian foreign office that it did not have any information concerning the sinking of the British liner Persia and Ambassador Penfield further stated that Baron Burián, the Austrian minister of foreign affairs, has asked him what information the United States government has concerning the disaster. The cable from Ambassador Penfield was dated Jan. 6. It was believed that a decision in the case of the Persia will be reached at the cabinet meeting today.

THE McNELLY ORCHESTRA.

There will be plenty of music worth at the concert of the McNelly Slaying and Novelty Orchestra, Monday evening at Freeman's hall. It will be a red letter night for the music lovers of this section. No musical organization of its size, and few, if any, surpass this collection of musicians in quality, variety and finish.

While the mastery of their instruments is deserving of special mention, it is the intense wonderful spirit permeating, possessing, inspiring, and swaying the musicians which chiefly characterizes their playing and differentiates it from the purely mechanical and lifeless precision of the human graphophone orchestra. The McNelly orchestra will provide an evening's entertainment that you will long remember. Concert from 8 until 9; dancing 9 until 1 o'clock. Reserve Monday night for this unusual event.

PASSENGERS HAVE A TALE OF HORROR

Thirty Days Storm Tossed on Greek Liner Thessaloniki Before Aid Was Called

New York Jan. 7.—Bringing with them out of the storm-tossed Atlantic ocean a tale of thirty days' of horror during which they hovered upon the borderland of death, 49 cabin and 133 steerage passengers of the disabled Greek liner Thessaloniki arrived here today on the sister ship Patris. Twice during those storm-filled days the passengers went to the captain of the Thessaloniki and begged him to call for help and it was not until most of the officers on board threatened to mutiny that an S. O. S. call was sent out. During 18 days of the 55 days the frightened passengers were on the vessel they were without meat for three days and water was so scarce that each passenger was reduced to half a cup a day. There were 45 women on board and while they gave way to prayers and demand for help at no time was there any wild panic on board. In addition to the women there were twenty children and five babies. The Thessaloniki was finally abandoned after the captain and crew had been taken off yesterday afternoon and her sea cocks opened and the ship allowed to sink in lat. 37-3m north; long. 66-29 west.

CONSCRIPTION AND MARTIAL LAW

Government Strength Shown in Passage of Military Bill—Threats May Cause Martial Law

(Special to The Herald)

London, Jan. 7.—Although the trades unionists are throwing their strength against conscription and a faction of the Unionist party led by Sir Edward Carson has opened a fight to overthrow the Asquith government, the passage of the military service bill last night on the first reading in the House of Commons, by a vote of 403 to 106, shows that the position of the government on compulsory service is stronger than was supposed. Velled threats by labor leaders that a railroad strike, perhaps a coal strike, will follow if conscription is put in effect, is met with the stern prospect that martial law may be proclaimed through the United Kingdom and that a military government may take charge of the country.

There is no doubt but what the government is going to pass and enforce the law, and any act on the part of the labor men will be promptly met with such stern methods as to discourage the bravest of the opposition.

N. E. MANUFACTURERS TO FIGHT RATES

Boston Jan. 7.—Boston and New England manufacturers who ship goods to the South are getting under way a campaign for retention of the present rates from this section to the South and have voted to put up a war fund of considerable magnitude rather than submit to the proposed increased rates, which will put local shippers at a disadvantage as compared with those from other states. Charles J. Hubbard, chairman of the Chamber's committee on transportation said: "The matter is at that stage where a formal protest must be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, if we are to expect any relief whatever. This means that we must be prepared to follow up the protest with

SKI JUMPERS IN THE NORTHWEST OILING UP FOR THE BIG TOURNEYS

Stoughton, Minn.—Ski jumpers in Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and several other states are now oiling up their limbs for the big tourneys which are to come shortly. The recent heavy fall of snow in this section of the country has helped the followers of the strongest case possible. Counsel must be employed, evidence must be gathered up and put in shape for presentation to the commission and we must prepare for a stiff fight. The Boston Chamber of Commerce and other commercial organizations throughout New England are aroused to the seriousness of the situation and now we must make the individual manufacturer see just what is involved."

MISS GEORGIE CAMPBELL

Miss Georgie Campbell who plays with such demure dignity and sings so sweetly the leading part of the fancy Princess Bessie in "The Spring Maid", which is booked here for Monday evening, January 10 at the Ports-month Theatre, is unlike the generality of stage folks, she is not an easy prey to the interviewer. A young journalist in a far Western town once essayed to get an interesting and chatty interview with this dainty bit of femininity but he was unable to draw her out on any particular subject and to tell the truth she knew more about him when the call ended, than he had learned about her. He was unable to induce or tempt her to admit that she was the victim of any fads or fancies, she was not an automobile enthusiast, never had attempted aviation, was not a golfer, did not own a kennel or prize dogs, and had no wonderful and rare collection of diamonds and had not even had a matrimonial adventure that would furnish any spice or even excuse for a story. In disparaging the interviewer said: "Well, Miss Campbell as there appears to be nothing very remarkable you wish to be made known about yourself, is there anything unusual about your parents you can tell me?" "No nothing," said Miss Campbell with delightful naivety, except that they are still living together."

The daughter was uninjured but the kitchen was badly damaged, the fire spreading over the entire room. The fire department was called. Mrs. Colbath is suffering a good deal of pain.

The wholesale price of gasoline has taken another jump of one cent per gallon. It is now 23 cents. The retail price was generally 25 cents; and it is expected that with this wholesale raise that it will be jumped to 26 cents. There have been several boosts in the price since October and it may reach 30 cents by March.

Bill Sugden reports that he is in line to meet Cunningham on the mat next Tuesday evening at Freeman's hall. It looks as though the Womansick wrestler was in for a battle royal.

The Haverhill high school basketball team, one of the strongest teams in this section of New England meets the Wenham team in the Y. M. C. A. gym on Saturday evening.

The "Fighting in France" pictures, now showing at the Portsmouth Theatre are among the best war pictures ever shown in this city.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Weyette's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of the famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

SIX NEW PLANES BOUGHT BY NAVY

New Air Craft for Navy Will be Built for Department by Sturtevant Company of Boston.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The Navy Department announced today that six new aeroplanes had been ordered from the Sturtevant Aeroplane Company, of Boston. This is the largest single order yet placed by the department for aircraft. The machines, which will be hydro-aeroplanes, are to be used for training purposes at the Pensacola aeronautic station of the navy. The most interesting feature of the announcement is to the effect that not only the fuselages or bodies of the new craft, following the Sturtevant practice, will be of steel construction, but also that the same material will be used for the aleron surfaces controlling the lateral movements of the craft, the first time such a practice has been adopted by any constructor in the United States. With the three new flying boats of the Burgess-Dunne type, recently completed for the navy by the Burgess Company of Marblehead, the six Sturtevents will make a total of nine machines, or the greater part of the increase for the past year, secured from Greater Boston aeroplane concerns.

The power plant for the machines just ordered will be the Sturtevant motor which is now being turned out in large numbers not only for American machines, but for foreign war aircraft. The type used will be the 140 horsepower, eight-cylinder, running at about 2000 revolutions, but geared down within the motor casing to revolve the propeller at 1350 revolutions. A further new development promised in the plans will be all-steel pontoons, which the designers believe will not only prove stronger but lighter than the customary type of wood. The latter after long service, become water-soaked, thus increasing by many pounds the original weight of the aeroplane.

YACHT CLUB HAD SUCCESSFUL SEASON

WORK OF THE YEAR REVIEWED
PORTSMOUTH YACHT CLUB
LAST EVENING.

One of the most enthusiastic meetings in the history of the Portsmouth Yacht Club was held last evening when the election of officers occurred. The Club, from the report of the treasurer, is in a more prosperous condition than at the beginning of any of the past years and from the report of the secretary much has been accomplished during the past year.

Following the meeting and election a banquet was served the members under the direction of Peter Pecunas, the club steward. This was followed by a musical entertainment and a pool match.

At the banquet Commodore Luke Ashworth was paid a high tribute for his work in planning the many things which have brought the club to its present successful condition. The speech was delivered by George Ducker and the Commodore was also presented with a meerschaum pipe, the gift of the members. Commodore Ashworth responded with a few well chosen words, thanking the members for their kindness and their confidence in him, as expressed in his re-election to the office of commodore.

A large ornamental compass dial was presented to the club by Daniel Trefethen. This will be placed on the piazza of the club facing the harbor.

"The Cruise of the Moby," the story of the yacht's Summer Cruise of last season, was presented by R. J. Giller and proved to be one of the most interesting and amusing histories of yacht cruises that the members of the club have had occasion to hear in a long time.

The officers elected last evening for the ensuing year are:

Luke Ashworth—Commodore.
Charles Pink—Vice Commodore.
James Lee—Rear Commodore.
Charles Hatch—Secretary.
Charles Bailey—Treasurer.

GERMAN SHIP LINE SALARY CUTS RESTORED.

Boston, Jan. 6.—Hamburg-American line officials in Boston have received notice that their salaries, which were cut at the beginning of the war, have been restored, the change going into effect Jan. 1.

A report reached Boston today believed to be from New York, that the service on the Hamburg-American and the North German Lloyd lines between Germany and this country is to be resumed. Officials in the local offices say they have heard nothing of it.

The Amerika and the Cincinnati are the two Hamburg-American vessels in port in Boston. North German Lloyd ships tied up here are the Wilhelm, the Wittekind, the Koeln and the Kronprinzessin Cecilie.

BRYAN'S PROBABLE COURSE

Friends of William Jennings Bryan, returning to Washington from his winter home in Florida, have brought back the impression that Bryan will oppose Wilson and his policy of preparedness to the extent of being a candidate against him. They say that he will stop at no effort to achieve his end, and they fear the result.

It is not probable that Bryan could prevent Wilson's re-nomination, but he expects to be a delegate from Nebraska, and he could, undoubtedly, split the party wide open, or enough to accomplish his main purpose. It does not require a large minority of the delegates to disrupt a political convention. If the chief disrupter is a gifted orator, a magnetic man and one who has a certain prestige of national leadership, even though its net results have been ignominious for him, three defeats for his presidential candidacies and four defeats for his party up to the time that Wilson was elected.

Bryan long ago manifested his consistent disposition to rule or ruin. He did not like the nomination of Alton B. Parker in 1904 and whatever influence he had, where such influence would make the difference between victory and defeat, he used almost openly. That, having disrupted a national convention, he would go out of it to run against its nominee seems incredible in view of the fact that such action would surely elect a Republican president, as Wilson is already pledged, to a policy of preparedness.—Boston Traveler.

BASEBALL MEN OF DARTMOUTH WORK IN GAGE.

Hannover, N. H., Jan. 5.—Dartmouth is starting early to develop a strong baseball team, and battery candidates are daily trying out their arms in the cage at Alumni gymnasium. At this winter season, when most of the undergraduates are turning fancy somers-aunts and calling it sking, and the snow outside is two feet deep, these baseball men are a promise that better times are coming and that the reign of the Frost King is not permanent. Spring and baseball are coming, and they are trying to hurry it along.

At present, the men will take only limbering up practices and shake the kinks out of the stiff pitching arms. The opening work will be gradual, but in February after the mid-year examinations, regular practice will start in the cage for all infield candidates.

Holmes and Doyle are both varsity pitchers, and it is around these two men that Coach Hazleton will build up his pitching staff. Brimby and McBride of last year's freshman team appear able to do good work, and Kent '17, who pitched several games last spring, is back again in college and will be eligible for the varsity.

The vacancy behind the plate, caused by the graduation of Wampanoag, will probably be filled by Murphy, '17, who played right field last season. He is a very steady performer and hits well. Salmonson '17 and Poole '18 are also good catchers. The early practice should develop these men into a capable battery.

The high school inter-class basketball games start this evening at the Y. M. C. A. gym.

50 NEW CASES OF ACIDOSIS TO NORTH OF BOSTON

Boston, Jan. 6.—Nearly 50 new cases of the malady diagnosed by some physicians as acidosis were reported today north of Boston, mainly in Newton, Brighton, Allston and Watertown. Most of the victims are children.

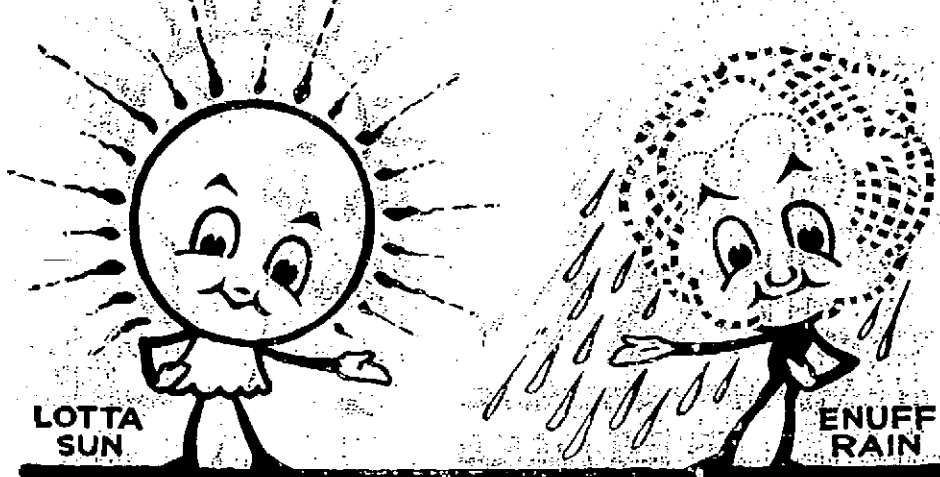

In some cases entire families are afflicted. On Tremont street, Brighton, two children, 5 and 1 years old, and the father and mother, are ill, and on Riverview road, Brighton, there is another family of three children, 13, 5 and 7 years, together with the mother, who are victims.

Some of the children are reported in serious condition, though most of them are improving. The trouble is of a "gastro-intestinal" nature in most of the children's cases.

The Revolver-Carrying Habit.

One of the most foolish and inexcusable habits is that of carrying a revolver unless the carrier be a policeman or a watchman, or is otherwise placed in a position which warrants the carrying of such a weapon as a means of defense against dangerous elements, which are not often encountered by the ordinary man in the ordinary walks of life. The habit is responsible for many killings, accidental and criminal. There is law enough against it, but it is not enforced and the deadly revolver is a much more common pocket piece than is generally supposed.

The dangerousness of this habit is frequently demonstrated, usually in connection with criminal cases, while accidental deaths and maimings are so common that they would create alarm were not the public callous to a practice that ought not to exist in any civilized community.

A striking demonstration of the foolhardiness of the revolver-carrying habit comes from Massachusetts, where a young academy student was shot dead the other day by his own revolver. He was cranking an automobile preparatory to a ride with some young friends when his revolver dropped from his pocket and was discharged, and he received a wound that caused his death before the arrival of the doctor who was hurriedly called. Investigation of the circumstances brought to light the fact that the young man had carried a revolver for some time, and had a permit to do so. His family stated that he had no special reason for carrying a weapon except that he wanted to do so.

If that is true it is in order to inquire what the authorities were thinking about when they granted the permit. They ought to have known that a young student had no legitimate use for such a weapon, and his application for the permit should have been emphatically turned down. But the boy wanted to carry a revolver, his family and the authorities consented and the result is his own tragic death and a household plunged into the deepest sorrow.

It is a well known fact that many men coming under arrest are found to have revolvers in their possession, and in many cases this offense against the law is leniently dealt with. It should be so sternly dealt with as to utterly discourage a practice that is fraught with the gravest danger; a practice for which in 99 cases out of 100 there is no excuse whatever.

War greatly stimulates invention and discovery, and activity along these lines is not confined to Germany. American experimenters have found out how to extract nitrogen from the air and it is expected that a large and profitable new industry will result, namely, the manufacture of nitric acid.

The mayor of Atlantic City, N. J., is quoted as saying that good booze is about one-fourth of life "if your stomach will stand for it." Holding such a view, it is not strange that his idea of a "sane and sensible Sunday" is one that will permit the saloons to open at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The fight for national prohibition is to be renewed in Congress notwithstanding the many other weighty matters there are to take the attention of the present session. And the suffragists will also call for attention. Time should not hang heavily on the hands of the members this winter.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is now getting ready for the social season at the White House and is extremely busy with her social secretary. And those who are not quite certain of their social status under the new regime will soon know the worst or the best, as the case may be.

Coal operators, railroads and manufacturing concerns are reported to be storing coal against a possible big strike in the coal fields next spring, but the householder cannot pursue this course. He has to keep the furnace humming and take his chances.

The new year brings many increases in wages which will help to offset the increasing cost of living to some extent. And the fact must not be overlooked that high wages play their part in raising the cost of living.

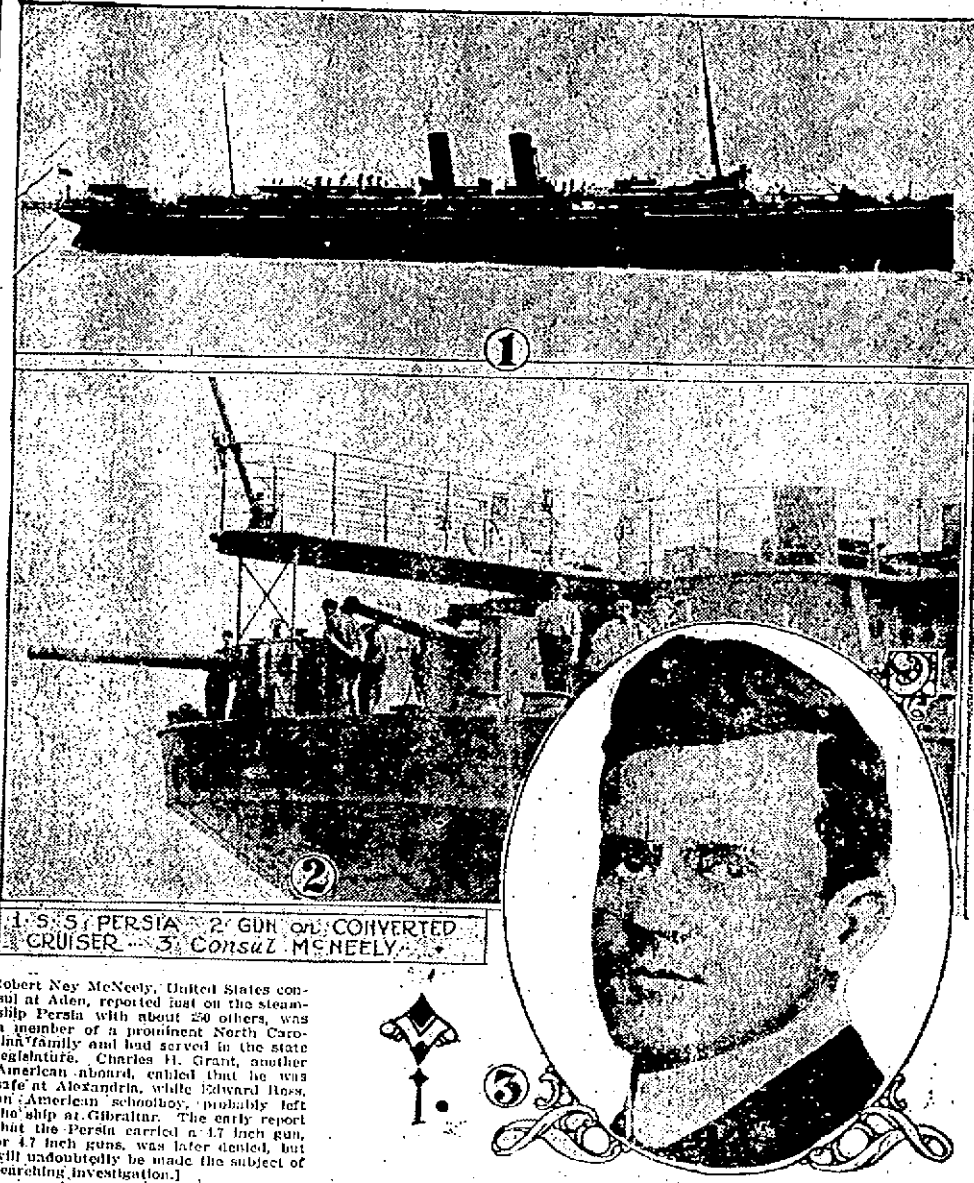

The papers are now telling about "the remaining" members of the Ford peace party. How long will it be before what is left of the enterprise will be looked upon by the whole world as "the remains."

In spite of an increase of pay beginning with the new year the traveling public will be expected to keep right on tipping the Pullman car porters.

A headline says "Germans think Egypt theirs; British do not." It is just such differences of opinion that started the war and keep it going.

The weather clerk this winter is proving himself to be a good mixer.

QUESTION OF GUN ON BOARD THE PERSIA IMPORTANT FACTOR IN TORPEDOED SHIP'S CASE

Robert Noy McNeely, United States consul at Aden, reported just on the steamship Persia with about 250 others, was a member of a prominent North Carolina family and had served in the state legislature. Charles H. Grant, another American aboard, stated that he was safe at Alexandria, while Edward Ross, an American seaman, probably left the ship at Gibraltar. The only report that the Persia carried a 17 inch gun, or 17 inch guns, was later denied, but will undoubtedly be made the subject of searching investigation.

The Observer

On all sides one hears deep regret on the death of Benjamin Franklin Webster, one of Portsmouth's leading citizens and property owners. Mr. Webster was a self-made man in every respect and despised anything that had a taint of aristocracy. Although Mr. Webster had reached the ripe old age of 81 years he was notive up to his very last sickness and it was hoped by his friends that he would reach the century mark. Mr. Webster belonged to the old type of citizen and did much to develop that part of the west end lying west of Middle street which is now the residential section of the city.

No matter how prominent a man may be in civil life, after he is dead he is soon forgotten. This fact was borne out very forcibly when a traveling salesman for a Boston cigar firm in his endeavor to sell a bill of goods to a local dealer inquired: "Who did you buy out?" The strange thing was that the salesman had for nearly 20 years disposed of his goods to the local dealer's predecessor who was one of the best known business men of this section.

It is doubtful that any time during the past ten years there has been such an epidemic of sickness as at the present time. One can not make an inquiry as to some friend only to be told that he or she is sick. Colds, influenza, and many are afflicted with the grippe. Extreme precaution should be taken at this season of the year by all, especially those engaged in out of door work.

What will be done at Freeman's Point? This question seems to be the uppermost one in the minds of the people of Portsmouth and the newspaper man who is supposed to be an encyclopedia of information is asked many times during the day as to what is the outlook for business at this particular spot. Freeman's Point has many natural advantages but just what the outlook for business at this particularly spot is hard to predict at this time.

THEN AND NOW

In January, grandmother used to lay in several bolts of muslin and begin the long task of making underclothes for the family.

Now, granddaughter puts on her hat and trips forth to the White Sales.

She lays in an entire stock of very much finer articles of apparel than grandma ever dreamed of.

She pays less than grandma did and contributes nothing in the way of labor.

And, being altogether an up-to-date young lady, granddaughter thoroughly posts herself by reading the advertising in this newspaper before she begins shopping.

PEOPLES' OPINION

Editor Herald: A writer in Thursday's Herald declares that we know that Christ was born on December 25.

The day that Christ was born is not known. About December 25 each year the days begin to lengthen and as Christ's birth is supposed to be the beginning of the coming of light in the world, that day was chosen to celebrate His birth for that reason.

To other statements of the writer, it is only fair to say that nearly if not all the astronomers of modern times declare that such an event as the Star of Bethlehem has never happened in the whole history of astronomy.

HEARING ON SIX-CENT FARE

Opposition From This County to Increase on the Massachusetts Northeastern Railway.

Concord, Jan. 6.—Although it was brief and study attended, there was not a dull moment in the hearing at the state house today on the question of whether the Public Service board shall approve a six-cent fare on certain electric railroads operated in this state by the Massachusetts Northeastern company.

Hearings have been held on the company's petition by the Massachusetts Public Service Commission which the New Hampshire board attended, and at the present time experts for the Massachusetts commission are making an investigation to determine the necessity for the fare increase.

That the New Hampshire commission will not allow the fare increase without a similar independent investigation was the hope expressed by Chester T. Woodbury of Salem, who headed the delegation of Salem, Pelham, Plaistow, Newton and Merrimack citizens appearing in opposition to the petition.

David A. Belden of Haverhill, president of the Massachusetts Northeastern company, and former Public Service Commissioner John E. Heaton of Keene, counsel for the company, appeared in favor of the tariff, which they explained amounted to a flat increase of 20 per cent throughout the system, except for the establishment of an additional fare limit between Pelham Center and Hudson Center.

It was explained that for many years Pelham people got an abnormally long ride for two fares and under the new division there will be three equal distant fare limits between Pelham and Nashua.

Charles W. Hobbs of Pelham said he and other Pelham residents approved the street railway, all stood by it and were willing to pay a fair price so it could prosper, but believed the additional fare would work great hardship, particularly on Pelham children of high school age, using the line to go to and from school. Mr. Hobbs expressed the opinion that the new fare would be suicidal for the railroad from the business point of view.

Former Representative Fred Hill of Plaistow and Charles W. Sawyer objected to the introduction of a six-cent fare, saying they believed it would be a boomerang in the long run.

President Belden said: "We don't know to what extent we will benefit. We expect some irritation and that some traffic will be diverted. 'Time alone can tell. We have finally to get the full benefit. We have wrestled for twelve years with the problem of making our lines profitable and frankly we are tired of waiting."

President Belden declared there was no watered stock in the consolidation of the Hudson and Pelham, the Haverhill, Plaistow and Newton, and the Seabrook and Hampton lines with the others of the Massachusetts Northeastern system. He declared that in the merger $650,000 was written off the books of the New Hampshire companies, either by cancellation of indebtedness or reduction of securities. On a comparative exhibit the earnings were shown on the Massachusetts Northeastern to be $1140 per mile as against $2,500 per mile for the other roads.

Although power is purchased from the Rockingham Light and Power Co., President Belden said the cost is probably less than it would be if capital was invested in a power plant for the road's sole benefit.

WANTS TO BUILD A DREADNOUGHT

Bill to Appropriate $350,000 to Get Charlestown Yard Ready Introduced.

Washington, Jan. 6.—A bill asking $350,000 for enlargement of the slips and general equipment of the Charlestown navy yard to permit the construction there of big battleships, was introduced today by Representative Tamm. Another bill to the same end, expected from Representative Tamm, who is studying conditions at the yard and obtaining expert advice in framing his measure.

On a report of the board of survey that repairs costing $500,000 are necessary for the battleship Georgia, Representative Gallinger today took up with the navy department ways and means for obtaining the money and plans for having the work done at the Charlestown navy yard.

Charlestown is the Georgia's "home yard," and the Massachusetts delegation hopes that the repairs will be made there.

In a letter to Mr. Gallinger the United States Navy Protective Association today urged that every effort be made to have the Georgia repaired at Charlestown.

CURRENT OPINION

Partisan Spirit Greatest Menace to Honest Municipal Government.

The spirit of partisanship in many phases of public life has taken deep root and is one of the greatest menaces of honest, efficient and upbuilding municipal government. We may be strong partisans in national affairs; that is natural and generally justifiable, but in municipal affairs we should not let the spirit of party, but moral courage, manly independence and civic pride rule our actions.

The mayor must ask and secure the support of the best citizens of all parties and must not be tempted to form a party of his own, for such attempt always has failed and always will fail.

Franklin appeals to partisanship and self interest by the foes of an honest business administration are, alas, too often successful. I trust the day will soon arrive when the tariff will play second fiddle in municipal platforms and not be the whole orchestra; when the dollar will be eliminated as a potent power in deciding elections; when selfishness will be supplanted by disinterested service, cowardice by manly courage, indifference by earnest longing to lend a helping hand.

Supineness of the voter and corruption of the ballot have been the main factors in impeding and nullifying municipal progress. They constitute the gravest danger to our free institutions.

To me the ballot is the most sacred and precious secular privilege. The voter who deliberately neglects to exercise the right of an American freeman, who fails to cast his ballot without proper excuse, should for repeated offenses be deprived of his citizenship.—Rudolph Hunsenburger, Mayor of Philadelphia.

He told the jury not to hold any intimation that the defendants attempted or actually controlled legislation anywhere.

An Answer.

Editor: Kittery, Jan. 7.
Replying to a letter published in yesterday's issue concerning a social held by a young ladies' club on New Year's eve, it is very evident that the writer was somewhat peeved because "he" (?) was not invited by these same young ladies to participate in the good time and partake of the goodies. Did he include himself among the "young gentlemen?" If so, he made a big mistake for no gentleman however displeased would attack any young ladies in such a mean, low contemptible, under-hand manner as the writer of the epistle. He must consider himself henceforth forever out of the good graces of the young ladies, and no further invitations will be extended. ANOTHER MEMBER.

MUSICIANS, DANCERS AND COMEDIANS

THREE EXCELLENT VAUDEVILLE ACTS ON COLONIAL THEATRE PROGRAM FOR LAST THREE DAYS.

One perfectly fine dancing novelty act, one perfectly fine musical act and one perfectly fine comedy singing and talking act make up the excellent vaudeville program for the remainder of the week at the Colonial theatre. These three acts are a vaudeville program that would be a credit to any theatre in New England as they are all headliners and in each, in addition to their merit as dancing, singing and music, they have a comedy streak that commends them to all.

The Colonial theatre had a capacity house last evening to greet this show and every member of the big audience was satisfied that the show was excellent.

The Dancing Teddy Bears is an act composed of four clever artists and they present some of the best novelty dancing and juggling together with some good comedy, that the theatre patrons of Portsmouth have had the opportunity of witnessing. Their dance numbers, performed by a man and three little girls, include the now famous "Teddy Bear" dance in costumes, toe dancing and other fine eccentric dances which are difficultly and were wonderfully well presented. It is an act of the highest merit.

Granstaff and Davis were well received and were accorded hearty applause at the end of each of their numbers. They presented a fine musical program made up of trombone and cornet duets and solos which included popular and operatic selections. The cornet duet, played by Mr. Davis on two instruments, was a distinct novelty. Mr. Davis rendered "The Rosary" as his "duet" number and every note was clear and distinct. It was wonderful piece of work and it is claimed that he is the only man on the American stage performing this.

Kennette and White proved to be good entertainers and their comedy talk and actions were well received. The love letter from the Girl in Manchester, together with the stage business necessary in having it read to the audience was very funny and original.

There was not a weak point in any of the acts presented last evening, the program being one of the best and strongest vaudeville offerings which the management has secured for some time.

THREE REAR ADMIRALS SAIL FROM BOSTON

FOUR BATTLESHIPS, CRUISER BIRMINGHAM AND REPAIR SHIP VESTAL START FOR WINTER MANOEUVRES

Boston, Jan. 6.—Three rear admirals sailed from the Charlestown navy yard today, when four battleships, the cruiser, Birmingham and the repair ship Vestal left for the winter manoeuvres. First to get away was the battleship Virginia, flying the flag of Rear Admiral Coffman, formerly commandant of the yard. The Rhode Island, New Jersey and Nebraska followed in order. Two hours later, at noon, the Birmingham, with Rear Admiral Gleaves aboard, left. She is the flagship for the torpedo boat flotilla. The last to sail was the Vestal, which is the flagship of the machinery division and flies the flag of Rear Admiral Pond, who was to have been commandant at Portsmouth, but his orders were changed as he was on his way to the New Hampshire yard.

These ships will all proceed direct to Hampton Roads, to join other ships of the Atlantic fleet, after which they will sail for Guantanamo, Cuba, for the manoeuvres and target practice. A number of new drills and experiments are to be carried out this time and attention will be paid to precautions against torpedoes and mines and to practice attacks with torpedoes and submarines.

The yard is thus left practically stripped of large ships, the only one remaining being the battleship Georgia, which is to be prepared for duty in the event of an emergency.

THE WHITE PINE BLISTER RUST
An Imported Disease of Our Most Important Timber Tree

PREVENTION WORK STARTED
Information for the White Pine Woodlot Owners of New Hampshire

There may soon appear in the press throughout the Eastern and Northern U. S. articles on the danger from the white pine blister rust. These articles will be promulgated by the interstate committee representing the New England states, New York and Pennsylvania and organized through the efforts of the Massachusetts Forestry Association. The purpose of the committee is to secure a small appropriation from congress by which the Bureau of Plant Industry of the U. S. Department of Agriculture may aid the said states in stamping out the disease in its incipient stages in order that the woodland owners in New Hampshire may know the situation in regard to this disease in our state and what is being done to eradicate it, this article is being promulgated by the Forestry Commission.

The blister rust is a disease which attacks the five-needled pines, particularly the white pine. It was first imported into this country a foreign nursery stock ten or fifteen years ago, and was found in a few localities in New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Vermont in 1909. It has been found recently in several sections of Massachusetts particularly in the western part of the state.

The disease passes one stage of its existence on the white pine appearing in May and June as orange-yellow pustules, generally on smooth, new bark. The affected stem or branch may be swollen. These pustules discharge spores which in order to germinate must light on the leaves of the current or gooseberry bushes. Here they develop another set of spores which appear first as yellow powdery spots, and later as hair like projections. The spores from these yellow chains go back to the pine and form the disease there. This habit of an alternate host for the disease gives us our best means of fighting it, for if there are no current or gooseberry bushes in the vicinity the disease cannot spread from one pine to another.

Its spread in New Hampshire is not definitely known. The forestry department in cooperation with the U. S. department of agriculture, has inspected all known white pine plantations from foreign stock during the past seven years, and has found the disease in only one plantation in the town of Marlow, from which the diseased seedlings have been removed; so that it is not believed that the disease could have spread from this plantation. Recently it has been found in Durham and Hampstead. Possibly there may be other affected areas.

A cooperative plan has been arranged by the forestry commission with the agricultural experiment station and the state department of agriculture with the aim of stamping out this disease in New Hampshire before it becomes firmly established. During the summer of 1915 all known infected regions in New Hampshire will be thoroughly scouted by the commission and in infected places or current or gooseberry bushes destroyed. The nursery inspector will carefully inspect all nurseries for the disease. The determinative and investigation work will be done by the experiment station where all suspicious specimens will be sent for identification and records of the disease kept. Prior to the summer scouting work, a leaflet describing the disease and giving pictures will be mailed by the forestry commission to woodlot owners who request it. The blister rust has caused great damage to white pine in England, Denmark, Holland and some localities in Germany and in these countries where the disease has become firmly established the growing of white pine has become impracticable. The possible damage which this disease might do to New Hampshire can be realized when we consider how great a proportion of the state's wealth is in our growing pine forests. It is not however in anticipation of immediate damage to our white pine crop that this is being undertaken but, rather, with the hope that by acting promptly the disease may never constitute a serious menace. Foresters are generally agreed that if adequate steps are taken at once to eradicate this disease the work of reforestation with white pine which has made rapid progress within recent years need not be discontinued. It is hoped that with the united action of the forestry departments of New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and Pennsylvania and with substantial government aid the disease may be stopped before it does any great damage to our white pine forests.

WHAT AUNT JANE SAYS

"I'll bet if that friend of mine who says he doesn't like fish could try some of this thick Marseillaise, he would change his tune," sighed Aunt Jane. "It's a little more bother to prepare than some other dishes, but it's worth the trouble." "You fry two large onions, chopped fine, in two tablespoonsful of olive oil. Add four tomatoes, cut into small pieces, salt and pepper, and a glass of water. Place the file fish in a saucepan, and allow it to boil fifteen or twenty minutes, keeping the kettle tightly covered." "Remove the fish and place on a platter on which you have previously placed some slices of bread browned in the oven. Boil the liquid down so that it thickens, and pour it over the fish. Over this pour the onions and tomatoes."

AMERICAN DEFENSE SOCIETY URGES HASTE

COL. ROOSEVELT AND HUDSON MAXIM PRESENT AT MEETING HELD IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Jan. 6.—Resolutions, calling for military preparedness to meet a national emergency which will arise within the next twelve or thirteen months, were passed yesterday at the first meeting of the advisory board of the American Defense Society.

The meeting was attended by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, his cousin, Philip H. Hodge, Hudson Maxim, David Jayne Hill and several other well known advocates of preparedness.

The first resolution adopted calls for the immediate construction of forty-eight dreadnoughts, with the necessary complementary smaller craft. A second resolution demands a standing army of 200,000 men to be supported by a citizen soldiery whose service would be obligatory.

At the close of the meeting Philip Roosevelt stated:

"We are preparing for an emergency that will arise during the next twelve or thirteen months."

Colonel Roosevelt refused to make any comment, saying that the meeting was entirely private.

Following is the text of the resolutions adopted:

"We must have a strong navy fully manned—forty-eight dreadnoughts and battle-cruisers. The necessary number of scouts, destroyers, and sea-going submarines should balance this capital fleet; also auxiliaries, colliers, repair ships, tenders, etc. This navy should be prepared immediately."

"We must have a standing army of 200,000 men and 25,000 officers backed by a national force of universal and obligatory trained citizens. In arms. This body should be of no less strength than 2,000,000 men, fully equipped and with a large reserve supply of artillery and ammunition."

"This shall be America's insurance against war, against invasion, against a foreign flag over Washington; a force of defence, which makes the Monroe Doctrine a living fact. And this shall be the true meaning of preparedness. Half measures are useless and mean wasted money."

Would Buy Canal for Defence

Purchase of the Chesapeake & Delaware Canal for not more than $2,500,000 and the expenditure of $6,000,000 in improving and fortifying it was proposed in a bill introduced yesterday by Senator Saulsbury of Delaware. The bill is based on a recent report of the Secretary of War that a sea-level canal between the Delaware and Chesapeake bays would be of great military importance. The canal would permit a force of submarines to be held at either of the two bays and used with equal efficiency in either. The bill relates. The bill also proposes to appropriate $180,000 at once for the purpose of preventing occupancy of Delaware Bay by war ships and transports of an enemy.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick, in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected, or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knott's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

SUBMARINE TENDER STARTS FOR ATLANTIC

The new submarine tender Bushnell, built at Seattle last year, sailed from the Puget Sound navy yard yesterday for the Atlantic ocean. She carries eight officers and 150 men. Stops will be made at San Francisco and San Diego and it is expected that the Bushnell, which draws only seventeen feet of water, will pass through the Panama Canal.

First Aid to Happiness and Prosperity in the New Year

Among the first aids to a happy and prosperous New Year there is always The World Almanac. This standard reference book fresh from the presses and bearing the date 1916 is now available to purchasers. A peep into the book shows that it comes to the public bringing, according to its annual custom, not only the election returns, the crop reports, business figures, sporting records and other statistics covering the transactions of the year just passed, but the abundance of fresh facts and features necessary to keeping up with the world that moves.

The great war in Europe receives attention in a summary of events and a chronological table. At another extreme of public interest the development of the motion picture business is considered. There are two pages about Woman Suffrage achievements and the recent vote. The substance is given of the Constitution rejected at the New York polls last November, and among the other and unnumbered subjects of special attention are these:

Widowed Mothers' Pensions; Political Platforms; Congressional Committees; State Legislation in the United States; Peace Movements; the Lincoln Highway from New York to San Francisco and the Dixie Highway from the Lakes to the Gulf; War Relief Societies; Armed Strength of the World; Manufacture of Munitions and Explosives 1915 State Census; Diplomats Dismissed from the United States; National Reading Circles; Public Society and School Libraries in the United States; Workmen's Compensation Laws; Gary School System; Health Laws in New York City; the Automobile Industry; Naval Advisory Board; Public School System in New York City; Unemployed in New York City.

As to things not to be found in this Almanac, it seems almost likely that there are not any such things. Anyway one must go out of his way to discover them.

Traveling Man Talks on New Year's Celebration.

How much the New Year's carnival was enjoyed is shown from the statement of a well known traveling man who said to one of the committee, "You can't beat Portsmouth when it comes to a good time and arranging any kind of a celebration. I was here a year ago at the initial welcome given the New Year and I came sixty miles out of my regular business route to be here for the second celebration. If I am alive when 1917 is due and the old town does the honors again, I certainly will be with you."

Senator Hollis Presents a Bill for Addition to Cost $100,000.00.

Senator Henry F. Hollis yesterday introduced a bill in the senate to instruct the treasury department to build an addition to the local postoffice building and appropriating $100,000 for the work. The bill was referred to the committee on public buildings.

It is said that the proposed plans are for the addition to be built on the north side of the building out to Porter street. This would give considerable additional space and take care of the congested condition of the building at present. The big increase in the Internal Revenue force has made it necessary for more room. The Coastguard office as well as the Collector of Port, and the U. S. Court have space in the building, the postoffice occupying only the street floor.

COLONIAL THEATREHome of Refined Vaudeville.
Safety and Quality First

One of the biggest hits scored by any act for a long time, was the record made by the Dancing Teddy Bears, three girls, and a man, at the Colonial last evening. This troupe comes direct from a long engagement in the "Chin Chin" Company, that rollicking Montgomery and Stone hit, now playing at the Colonial Theatre, Boston. The act includes juggling and dancing, and is one that cannot be equaled anywhere. A positive treat. The musical act presented by Granstaff and Davis is one of much merit. A feature of their act is the cornet duet by Mr. Davis, he playing two instruments at one time. Kenneth and White are two clever character comedians with a lot of ready jokes and songs which keep the audience in good humor.
